

Californian Leather Goods

California

Wholesaler and drop shipper of leather handbags Californian Leather Goods is an online seller of personalized leather goods, mainly handbags, with roots dating back to 1936. The company manufactures their products in their 15,000 sq. ft. plant in California, and supply items to retailers nationwide as well as Japan. They offer embroidery and inlaying of logos on all their products for promotional purposes. Some of Californian Leather Goods' customers include night clubs, aerospace manufacturers, college sports teams, uniform distributors, souvenir shops, and racing teams. All their products are made of South American cowhide and "butter-soft" Italian lambskin. Products they offer and do customizations on are soft travel goods, handbags, garments, caps, fanny packs, backpacks, duffel bags, and other accessories. For all drop ship and other inquiries and concerns, one may send Californian Leather Goods an email. One may also request for their printed catalog as not all of their product lines are displayed on their website.
