American radio products wholesaler CB Distributing is an American consumer electronics wholesaler and drop shipper based in Albany in the state of Oregon. The company has been in the business for over 30 years, serving small to large retailers. The company only deals with e-commerce retailers and retail establishments. Some of the products that CB Distributing offers are car radios, antenna mounts, radio brackets, radio parts, extension speakers, microphones, PA horns, adapters and connectors, cellular antennas, TV antennas, marine antennas, scanner antennas, motorcycle headsets, weather monitors, radar detectors, action cameras, power inverters and supplies, business radios, CB radios, marine radios, and 10 meter radios. To become a dealer for CB Distributing, one must fill out a credit packet that is downloadable from their website. Once approved, blind drop shipping services will then be available to the reseller. For inquiries and concerns, customers may contact the company by phone, fax, or by filling out the online contact form.
