Wholesaler of marine supplies CWR Electronics is an American marine electronics and supplies wholesaler based in Bayville in the state of New Jersey. The company was established in 1981 with a focus on marine technology, and later on added new items to their product range that are outside the scope of marine supplies to accommodate other needs. Products offered by CWR Electronics include satellite navigation systems, satellite radios, CB radios, CD and cassette receivers, power amplifiers, signal processor satellite receivers, loudspeakers, handheld, PDA, wearable, portable, and Bluetooth GPS navigation systems, fish finders, ship-to-shore marine radios, gauges, marine radars, radio splash covers, compasses, two-way radios, and more. To become a dealer and avail of CWR Electronics' drop shipping service at no extra cost, one must simply fill out the application form found on their website. Dealers are given three payment options to associate with their accounts, the requirements for each are detailed on the site. For other concerns, customers may contact them via phone, email or fax.
