Drop shipper of fragrances and perfumes Aura Fragrances Of Paris offers a comprehensive selection of first-quality prestige fragrance brands in the company's perfumery portfolio.

Over 125 brand groups are represented spanning hundreds of individual fragrance brands from the classics to the latest launches. Always fresh, first-class stocks in many cases direct from the original brand manufacturer. Aura Fragrances Of Paris takes great pride in the company's long-standing personal relationships with vendor resources and valued Wholesaler and retail clients. To achieve this, our specialists collaborate closely with the greatest "noses" of Paris, Grasse and Geneva. We have also built up a privileged partnership with the most talented designers and the most competent suppliers to finalize our creations. The millions of units we market throughout the world allow us to reinforce these very special links while developing continually more elaborate and more sophisticated products. The size and diversity of our international markets require the widest range of the most varied perfumes catering to the differing tastes of our multiple customers. This variety also satisfies the changing tastes of each individual according to the slightest change in mood or occupation. Consumers are, indeed, no longer faithful to one particular perfume, but expect to find a wide range of fragrances reflecting the multiple aspects of both their personality and their lifestyle. We are therefore able to offer a collection which adapts continually to new fashions and new trends.
